

FOUR JURORS IN BOX SCHMITZ TO TRY

CONFESSION BY JACK JOHNSON!

Pugilist Lays Bare His Soul
at The Tribune Confessional

FAKE FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS REVEALED

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Big Jack Johnson called at THE TRIBUNE office this morning and showed Tommy Burns up in a manner that is not entirely flattering to the good name and fame of that gentleman.

In fact, Jack averred in the plain simple words of a plain man that BURNS wanted him to enter into a FAKE FIGHT with the end in view of leading the dear common people to another SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS.

And Johnson does not stop with BURNS. He implicates that other SINGED ANGEL "UNCLE TOM" McCAREY.

Johnson in laying bare the facts of the attempted swindle declares that McCAREY was in on the attempted frame-up and was SPONSOR for the deal that never came through.

GREAT DISCLOSURE.

Added to the recent confession of Jack O'Brien and THE TRIBUNE'S EXPOSE of the HART-SCHRECK frame-up, the news that BURNS IS A FRAME-UP MERCHANT will set the fight fans by the ears.

Not since the days of Mrs. Jarley's waxworks have so many heads been rolled as are now falling in the FIGHT GAME.

"I was going to Australia to try and get a match with Mr. Squires," says Johnson, "when I stopped in Los Angeles. I was not there very long when McCarey and Burns attempted to show me that I could make more money by staying in Los Angeles and LAYING TO BURNS than going to Australia and fighting Squires.

"I wanted none of this game and told them so, but they were insistent and had several conferences with me. In EACH and EVERY ONE of these conferences they wanted ME TO LAY DOWN.

PLACE OF BUSINESS.

"These conferences all took place in McCAREY'S office. I refused to enter into any DEAL point blank and insisted on FIGHTING ON THE LEVEL or not at all."

Statement by Jack Johnson

"Tommy Burns wanted me to fake with him in Los Angeles. It was just prior to my going to Australia that I was approached by Burns and McCarey. They had me in several conferences in McCarey's office at the Pacific Athletic Club of Los Angeles. BURNS AND McCAREY OFFERED ME $10,000 to lay to BURNS. I would not sanction the proposition. I offered to fight him, but I wanted the fight to be strictly on its merits. BURNS AND McCAREY WOULD HAVE NONE OF THIS.

SEVERAL CONFERENCES.

"They had me in several conferences, and the only reason that I DID NOT GET A MATCH was because I WOULD NOT FRAME UP TO QUIT TO BURNS." Burns would never meet me in a fight STRICTLY ON THE SQUARE. He wanted me to frame to lay DOWN TO HIM, and I could have had a match with him any time on these DIRTY TERMS, but I could not fool the PUBLIC. I have always been on the SQUARE, and I NEVER DID or NEVER WILL FRAME UP AGAINST THE PUBLIC.

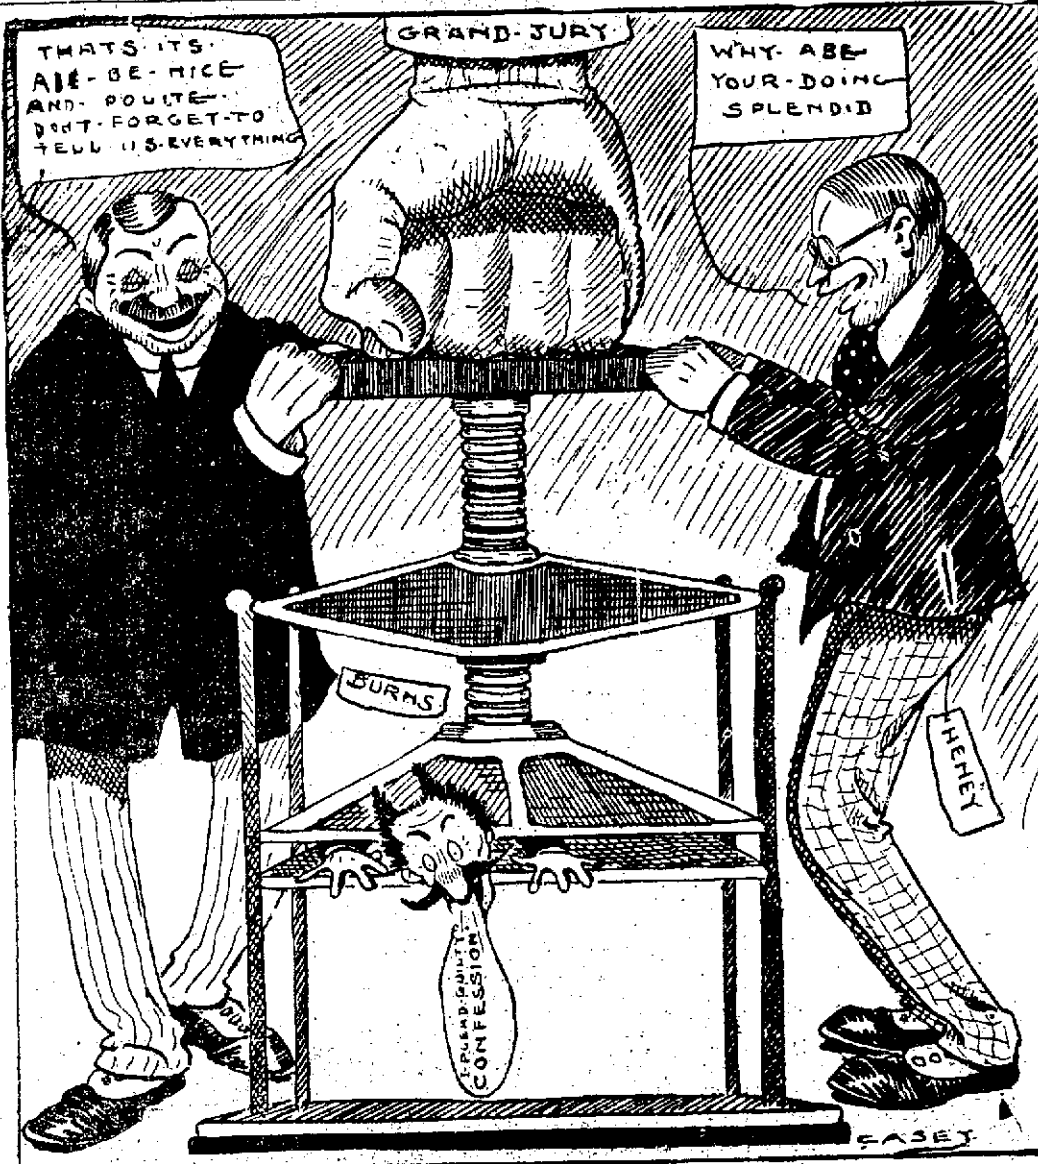

"BURNS AND McCAREY begged me to frame to LAY DOWN TO THE CANADIAN. They flattered me and besides offering me $10,000 THEY hinted at FUTURE MATCHES in which I could make big MONEY.

"I refused flat footedly to lay to BURNS. When I asked Burns to FIGHT ME ON THE LEVEL, he looked as though a ten story building had fallen on him and he back water-

Laundry Workers to Consider Concessions

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The Laundry Workers' Union of San Francisco has engaged Dolores Hall for a meeting tonight to consider the proposition made by the employers. General announcements have been sent out and it is expected that a representative meeting of the union will be held. It is known that the proposition from the employers does not grant all the demands of the union, and it seems to be the opinion of leaders of the union that a settlement will not be reached on this basis. However, it is announced that the proposition from the employers was sufficiently favorable to incite a possible compromise at an early date.

Horrible Death of a Desert Prospector

SAN BERNARDINO, May 23.—J. W. Murray, a desert prospector, 69 years old, met a horrible death from frost six miles from Willow Grove, at the foot of Old Dad's Mountain, last Friday. Tuesday his blackened remains were found under a greasewood tree in the bottom of a lava bed. He had tied his under garments to the tree and torn his outer clothing into shreds. He had worn away his finger nails in digging desperately for water in the hard lava and had clawed his face in a shocking manner.

KIND HEARTS BEAT IN ROUGH COATS

Firemen Work Silently to Save Boy

CHICAGO, May 23.—No shouting, no clanging of gongs, no clamor that usually attaches to a fire, attended the fighting of a blaze in the home of Mrs. George L. Bradbury yesterday, for a little boy lay near to death there. Firemen fought the flames in silence. Orders were issued in a whisper. The heavy-booted men crept about the house on tiptoe. Although smoke filled the residence and hasty action was compulsory in the short struggle with the fire, there was little more noise in the structure than there would have been had nothing happened. The stricken boy is George L. Bradbury. He is the seven-year-old son of the late George L. Bradbury, for many years president of the Lake Erie and Western Railway.

Think Boy Was Killed in Box Car

ON CHARGE OF EXTORTING MONEY

Nine Talesmen Examined Today of Which Six Were Excused for Cause.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—At the noon adjournment of the Schmitz case today four men had been secured to act as jurors, the fourth man having been obtained this morning.

The accepted jurors now comprise, L. Weil, 2555 California street; Chas. H. Gish, 1682 San Jose avenue; Paul Bancroft, 735 Market street, and Jas. Feltberg, 1723 Oak street, the last mentioned having been secured at this morning's session.

Nine talesmen were examined today, of these six were excused for cause. Two were passed by both sides, and one was passed by the prosecution alone and challenged by the defense, but the challenge was disallowed.

In the jury box at noon the men passed were James Feltberg, Henry J. Morton and W. J. Barnard.

The prosecution said it would accept these three.

The defense, however, said it would temporarily challenge Messrs. Morton and Barnard, and those two gentlemen were excused.

Routine of Schmitz Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The spectators sit in plush-lined pews. At the right of the altar a rough board dais lifts the audience room of the Temple on Bush street this morning, to which place Judge Dunne's court has been removed for the trial of Mayor E. Schmitz on the charge of extortion.

It would be difficult to fancy a sharper contrast than is afforded by this new background. The room in the Temple Sherith Israel at California and Webster streets, where Judge Dunne had held court since immediately after the earthquake and fire, is bare, none too light and ill ventilated, beside being altogether too small for the conduct of an important trial.

PLENTY OF COMFORT.

In the new courtroom there is no lack of comfort. The auditorium of the Bush-street Temple is a large, handsomely furnished room. Judge Dunne sits in a high-backed, carved chair in the altar, his figure outlined against crimson velvet curtains and golden wall adornments.

At either side rise huge brass candelabra; in the center of the nave above the altar-space swings a flagged censor; its red-shaded flame glowing dully in the subdued light of the lofty room.

John D. Ryan, secretary of the Board of Supervisors, said this morning: "I have notified Mr. Calhoun by letter of the desire of the committee. No response has been received, and it is not known whether Mr. Calhoun intends to appear or not. The public utilities committee will meet at 2:30 o'clock and will then wait for the appearance of Mr. Calhoun."

NOT ALLOWED.

ENGLISH WALNUT BLIGHT SERIOUS

Plant Pathologist Explains the Situation

Your young lady reporter who has been calling on me recently is very bright and accurate generally but she errs in making me say, in the report of fruit outlook in your journal of Monday, that the walnut has no blight. This is particularly bad because we have been working hard for two years on walnut blight as shown by the accompanying leaves from the report of our plant pathologist for 1936.

You can slip in a counter statement to the effect that the walnut has a very bad blight it will save me the reputation of not knowing anything.

While however except in a few instances are attempting no treatment for the blight and feel deeply concerned at its ravages. The disease produces black, cankered spots on the young nuts causing them to fall prematurely or spoiling the kernel (Fig. 1). The canker appears on the youngest, green new growth (see Fig. 3), but these heal out as the wood hardens, not continuing down the twig. In bad years, however a large portion of the terminal growth (the shoots which should bear the crop next year) is killed in this way.

DISEASE IS INVESTIGATED.

"An appropriation was made by the thing about the walnut. Sincerely,

E J WICKSON.

WALNUT BLIGHT SERIOUS

The report of the plant pathologist, to which Professor Wickson refers in the above communication contains these statements:

The walnut blight is a very serious disease of the English walnut which occurs all over California, but reaches particular importance in the southern part of the State where the commercial crop is principally grown. It is a very serious disease which affects the life or vitality of the tree to any serious extent, but exerts its harmful effect on the amount and quantity of the crop varying from a slight reduction in yield to an entire loss of the crop. In an orchard may be very badly affected this year and the same trees produce an abundant harvest a year or two later. A destruction of fifty per cent or more in this valuable crop is often occasioned by the blight.

The disease is said to be unknown save on the Pacific Coast and has been previously studied only by Prof. W. A. Harkness, of the Department of Agriculture, while stationed at Santa Ana, Cal. The latter has shown the blight to be of a bacterial nature, caused by an organism named by Prof. Harkness as Peridermium, which was the first work to be taken up by the Pathological Laboratory for Southern California, established at the University of California. The material obtained through the courtesy of the Whittier Board of Trade, and one assistant has been constantly employed on this work since May, 1905. The laboratory has since attracted attention to this investigation and other help has been added from time to time. The work of the past year has consisted in a bacteriological study of the organism causing the disease (Pierce's determination in this respect being substantiated by our results), a series of spraying experiments, on quite an extensive scale, and the study of the life history of the blight in the orchard, and a general study of the walnut and its culture. We will not attempt to discuss here at length the results of the work in this investigation, which still continues. Results thus far have shown that the trouble is a peculiarly difficult one to control for a number of reasons, the chief of which are: 1. Experiments do not appear at all promising though this will be continued another year. Even were they very favorable, the size of the walnut tree makes the use of any protective measure on account of the expense and dif-proved by Professor Pierce to be the active sole cause of the blight by isolation of the organism from diseased tissues and by the artificial production of the disease from inoculations with the germ from cultures. A recurrence of fifty per cent in the occurrence of the disease has been shown by spraying twice with Bordeaux mixture after first removing the affected twigs.

FULL PENALTY
TO BE IMPOSED

If Senders of False Alarms to Volunteer Fire Department
Are Caught.

FRUITVALE, May 23.—The fire department again gives notice that any one who may be caught sending in a false alarm of fire will be punished to the extreme limit of the law, a fine of $50. On Tuesday night such an alarm was sent in from Melrose on an alleged fire in Talcott's barn, but no fire was visible when the department reached there.

The commissioners propose to put in two horses in department No. 1, as they find that in view of the hilly nature of the district one animal is not sufficient for the work.

Something has happened—Contractor McClelland, who had the construction of the Fruitvale Methodist church on hand, recently threw up the contract, though most of the outside work had been done. It will be finished now by other parties.

The ceremony of laying the cornerstone will proceed next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, notwithstanding the stoppage of the work. A number of prominent people will assist, among them Rev. Dr. Dille and Joaquin Miller.

CRUISER BOSTON
BREAKS RECORD

Navy's Highest Honors Goes to Pacific Squadron in Big Shooting Meet.

VALLEJO, May 23.—Vallejo and the Mare Island navy yard were happy last night over the news that the cruiser Boston of the Pacific squadron had broken the world's record for target shooting with six and eight inch guns and that the squadron had won the highest marksmanship honors of the navy.

A wireless telegram from Admiral Swinburn, commander of the Pacific squadron, was received tonight, stating that the Navy Department in Washington had telegraphed an order for the Boston to hoist the trophy pennant. The trophy is of bronze plate, four by six feet in size, containing a medallion representing a cruiser firing its guns. Congratulatory telegrams from Washington have been received in great number by the officers of the Boston. The achievement of the cruiser is considered especially remarkable, as its guns are old and were used in the Spanish-American war, while those of the Chicago and other vessels are of the most modern and latest design. The eight on the Boston's guns were made by the members of its crew from crude material found about the ship.

IRVINGTONS TO HAVE
BARBECUE AND MUSIC

The residents of Irvington are looking ahead to a big time on Decoration day, May 30. There is to be a free barbecue, music and a general good time.

C. N. Hirsch, one of the leading business men of the town and a member of the Summer Home Land Company, recently purchased the Bond property, which he will have it surveyed and placed on the market, offering it to the public at that day in lots suitable for summer home sites. A special train has been chartered from Oakland, stopping at way stations. The fare has been fixed at 75 cents for the round trip. No pains have been spared in the part of Mr. Hirsch in making this day one of pleasure, as well as affording the public an opportunity to the passage of two cars whose united crews had a hard time to get it off the roadbed. Later in the day it was towed into Oakland, wrecked as to its running gear.

Marshal Geisenhofer has acted energetically in stopping this growing menace to life, limb and property by day, in his territory. It is not in his power, however, to cope with the evil unless united action is taken by all. Elmhurst, Richeburg and Melrose are ripe for just such a movement now and with Mayor Mott's support something may soon be done in that direction.

WILL OPPOSE ERECTION OF SMELTER FURNACES

SAN LEANDRO, May 23.—The town trustees have directed Town Attorney W. J. Locke to protest against the proposed erection of a smelter at Baden on the ground that the fumes from the furnace would be carried into the San Leandro section and destroy vegetation. Paul Pickney, secretary of the Home Protective Association of San Mateo county, has written to the trustees, urging their cooperation in a fight which the association is making against the smelter. He said that $1,000 had been raised to conduct legal proceedings against the smelter company.

Now on.

SAN RAFAEL, May 23.—The City Trustees are seriously considering the advisability of adopting the suggestion of J. B. Cheda, a member of the County Board of Supervisors, in regard to flagrant violations of the speed ordinance by automobilists.

Cheda recommended that men be stationed by hydrants in the principal business streets and upon any violation of the ten-mile-an-hour rule that the water be turned on through the fire hose and the occupants of the automobile given a severe drenching.

On numerous occasions children going to and from school have narrowly escaped being run down by big touring cars bearing out-of-town license numbers.

The water pressure here is strong and residents are generally in favor of the proposed action.

HOW ALL CALIFORNIA IS BEING INJURED

A VAST majority of Californians do not realize how terribly this State is being injured by the existing conditions in San Francisco. The cesspool of political corruption which has been revealed by the graft investigation is secondary in inflicting material damage on the commonwealth to the car strike and the disorders that have accompanied it. Every Eastern paper of prominence daily prints stories of what is occurring in San Francisco that make a Californian blush with shame to read. Travelers avoid the chief city of the State, once the Mecca of all wayfarers, as they would a pestilence. If they are compelled to pass through the city they do so hurriedly, tarrying not an hour longer than necessary.

People from the interior no longer go to San Francisco to shop. Tourists from the Orient take the steamers for Seattle and Vancouver, while visitors from the East make Portland and Los Angeles their destination. In the financial world San Francisco has an evil name, not because there is anything wrong with her commercial men and methods, but because industrial and political conditions have provoked widespread distrust. All over the East it is believed that life and property are insecure in San Francisco; that the city is a prey to violence and disorder and her government in the hands of thieves.

The insult and violence offered to women and men riding on the street cars have injured the city's reputation more than anything else. When ladies, strangers in the city, are assailed with obscene epithet and their escorts threatened with assault, the impression is naturally conveyed to the visitor that San Francisco is a good place to stay away from. And it is, with matters in their present posture.

The visiting Shriners were driven out of San Francisco by the car strike, carrying away with them a very damaging impression of the city, the character of its inhabitants and the manner in which it is governed, or misgoverned. They had been shocked by a frightful railway wreck, and to be welcomed in San Francisco with hoodlumism and riot was too much.

It is useless to dispute as to who is primarily to blame for the condition of affairs or to assert that the stories sent abroad for publication are exaggerated and misleading. The condition exists. Its effects are becoming painfully manifest. They are being communicated to every part of the State, and in consequence business is everywhere suffering. Poor men are walking the streets in Fresno, Stockton and Sacramento in search of work because of the situation in San Francisco. Three months ago there was employment for everybody able and willing to work, but today there are many thousands in idleness, and the army of the unemployed is swelling daily.

It is folly to deceive ourselves longer. The financial teeth of all California are on edge, and the entire commercial and industrial system is bound to sustain a severe shock unless peaceful and orderly conditions are soon restored in San Francisco.

Ordinarily small public interest attaches to the swatting of one man by another with a brick or a cobble—it is a matter for the patrolman and the police court to adjust. But now the prosperity of the whole State of California gets a smash every time a brick is thrown at a passing car or a passenger banged on the head. The man who hits another in San Francisco these days is knocking honest workingmen, union laborers, out of their jobs elsewhere. He is hamstringing business and industry and making the conditions of life harder for all classes of people who earn their bread in the sweat of their faces. Every man, however humble, can do something toward bettering conditions; can do it simply by keeping the peace and counseling others against disturbance. Every man can at least try to be a gentleman, and all can go far to earn that title by showing proper respect to women and protecting them from insult.

This may seem to be, at first glance, only a matter of personal conduct, but by reason of what has gone before and collateral circumstances, it gravely affects the welfare of the entire commonwealth and the interests of every person in the State. It is creating an issue that vitally concerns all classes and conditions and which if not resolved in wisdom and temperance must bring common disaster.

Righteousness Preached in Gath.

The National Association of Manufacturers, now in session in New York City, has gone on record as favoring a revision of the tariff at an early date. The resolution also recommended the negotiation of more reciprocity treaties.

It is rather remarkable to hear a demand for tariff reform coming from such a quarter. Hitherto the manufacturers, as a class, have stoutly opposed any interference with the tariff. They have regarded the Dingley act as an ordinance of the Medes and Persians, immutable and unchangeable.

What will the Home Market Club of Boston say? How will Uncle Joe Cannon and Congressman Dalzell receive this pronouncement from the protectionist sanhedrin? And the American Economist, will it still insist that a demand for tariff revision is proof positive of treason or insanity?

But the Manufacturers' Association did more than take a fall out of the tariff Bourbon. The tenor of the addresses indicated a sympathy with organized labor that must be distressing to a certain class of employers. For instance, Oscar S. Straus, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, himself a great merchant and a large employer of labor, said:

"Most of the strife between capital and labor would disappear if it were more fully recognized that a high rate of wages, within economic limitations, is a powerful level to reach a low cost of production, which practically rules to day in the industries of the United States. I hope in another year you will have with you at your annual festivities representation of the great labor groups who rightly share with you the credit for America's wonderful industrial development, who have shared and are entitled to share more and more with you, according to the measure of their deserts, the prosperity that has crowned your and their joint labors."

This reveals the thought of statesmanship, philanthropy and justice. It is evidence of the greater breadth of view that is obtaining in regard to the labor and wage question. Industrial peace is indispensable, as one of the speakers said, to the prosperous development of manufacturing, but there can be no permanent industrial peace that is not based on justice and fair play. When both sides come together with a determination to insure peace on this basis we shall have it. Not before.

The brewery workers are on strike in San Francisco. Now, if the beer drinkers will also go on strike things will be evened up and the moral equilibrium of the community preserved.

Tennessee has a grandmother aged 32. She is the mother of eleven children, and has two grandchildren. President Roosevelt ought to issue a proclamation praising her example.

Abe Ruef says he will tell all he knows about everything, but he needs an attorney to tell him what he knows.

Mayor Schmitz is now in a position to appreciate the danger of the yellow peril.

SUGGESTION FOR A STRIKE SETTLEMENT.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Is it not about time for the people of California to intervene and settle the quarrel between Mr. Cornelius and Mr. Calhoun?

They can do it in twenty-four hours from the moment they resolve to end the disastrous controversy.

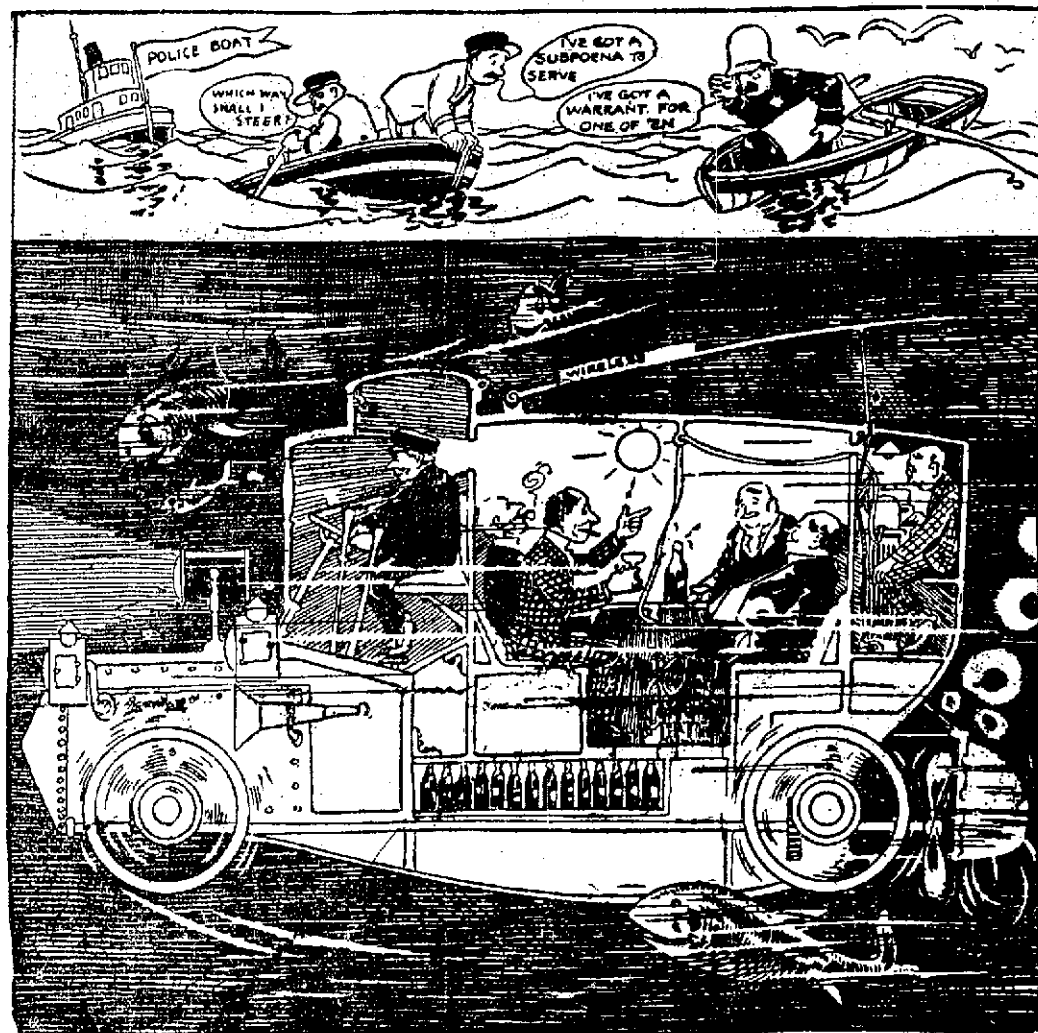

The Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oakland, in his recent sermon on "The Newer Point of View on Industry," has indicated clearly the only way in which this dangerous contest between labor and capital can be safely and peacefully ended.

THE TRIBUNE, with its usual fairness and wisdom, placed this very able discourse before its readers in its Saturday evening issue of May 18.

It would be futile to attempt a citation of all the excellencies of Dr. Brown's discourse in a brief newspaper article, but every business man in San Francisco and Oakland might derive great profit by obtaining and studying the points made in that excellent discourse.

It may be sufficient in this article to call attention, as Dr.

NOW THAT UNDER-WATER NAVIGATION IS A SUCCESS.

Brown does, to the efficiency of the Erdman act of Congress to settle all disputes like the one now threatening the peace and dignity of this commonwealth and racking and wrecking the noble city of San Francisco, already tried beyond human endurance.

Why may not the Governor, instead of holding troops in readiness to shoot down excited and possibly innocent citizens, appoint a board of arbitration, with plenary powers under the act cited, which shall compel both parties to the dispute to bow to the will of the people expressed in a fair decision as to what is just and right for both contestants to accept?

If the governor does not deem himself vested with proper authority to end the dispute in the peaceful way indicated, the citizens of San Francisco and Oakland, rising as a committee of the whole and exercising the inalienable and sovereign right of self-defense can end this quarrel quickly.

In the midst of such a clash of arms as has already occurred in San Francisco the law seems silent, and whatever technicalities of law may seem to be temporarily overridden in this threatening emergency, any course of action that will insure peace and avoid more bloodshed would seem preferable to drifting on into scenes of civil strife that may eventually exceed the horrors of the French Revolution.

Let San Francisco, in her hour of supreme agony, rise and compel peace in her midst, and the entire country will not only applaud but follow her heroic action, if ever sorely pressed as she is.

As Dr. Brown very wisely declares: "Future generations will look back and wonder that we were so blind and so lazy as to tolerate the loss and inconvenience occasioned by the fighting out of these private feuds."

R. O. WHITEHEAD.

Oakland, May 18, 1907.

Ruef in the Role of Evelyn Nesbit.

Abe Ruef says the corporations came to him with offers of cash unsolicited, and that his virtue succumbed to the blandishments of easy money. But why did the corporations come to Ruef with offers of money? They are not in the habit of going around giving large wads of cash away for nothing. What was Ruef to them or they to Ruef that they should be so liberal with him?

The corporations hired Ruef ostensibly as a lawyer, but he never did any law business for them: He drew large retainers for simply doing nothing. When the corporations wanted favors they had to pay for them extra.

While Ruef was by profession a lawyer, he was also a recognized political boss. As his power as a boss increased and his political activities expanded, his practice in the courts decreased. He received his largest fees when he figured least in the courts. In other words, he found the profession of politics, as he played the game, far more lucrative than the profession of the law. He made big money by being paid big money as a lawyer for what he did as a politician. Some of his fees were on their face merely paid as insurance against political spoliation and official harassment.

Ruef ingeniously pleads that the corporations seduced him from the path of virtue by first giving him money for nothing. After that when they offered money for something, he took the cash and delivered the goods. To insure their deliverance he paid part of the money he received to the Supervisors. It requires no penetration to discern the character and motive of these transactions or to detect the sophistry of the degraded boss. He first sold immunity to the corporations and then from merely exacting tribute he proceeded to the selling of privileges of enormous value.

He took money from everybody—the French restaurants, the saloons, the houses of ill-fame, the corporations, the contractors. It is too late now for him to play the role of Evelyn Nesbit in the drama of political corruption in San Francisco.

Isaac Stephenson, the new Senator from Wisconsin, is a multimillionaire banker. He is classed as a La Follette man, however. His wealth seems to be his chief recommendation.

The Southern Pacific has offered $10,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the miscreants who wrecked the day express on the coast line. It is to be hoped the wretches will be apprehended and hanged; for trainwrecking is the acme of criminal diabolism. It is a species of criminality that deliberately contemplates wholesale slaughter of people of all ages and sexes. The incendiary who fires a city for loot or revenge is not so abhorrent and ruthless a scoundrel as the trainwrecker, for he only aims to destroy property and the menace to life is merely incidental. But the wrecking of a passenger train necessarily involves the killing and maiming of a large number of human beings to whom the wrecker is an utter stranger. Consequently every trainwrecker should be promptly hanged. He should be put to death on the same principle that we kill a mad dog, for he is not only beyond hope of reformation but is a terrible foe to society. However, the responsibility for the wreck of the Shriners' special has never been fixed, and no rewards have been offered for the conviction of the persons whose neglect of duty caused that frightful disaster.

LACONIC IF HE IS DUMB.

"The most laconic man I know of is a deaf and dumb man in our town," one of the party remarked; "he never writes on his little pad more than enough to convey his meaning. It happened he was a good poker player and one night won a watch and chain from a young man of the town. The young man's father, a very pompous individual, heard of it, and, meeting the successful gamster on the street next day, stopped him. The deaf and dumb man produced his little pad. On it the irate and pompous father wrote: 'I understand you won Bob's gold watch the other night.' He handed it to the deaf and dumb man, expecting to see him change countenance and offer to give up the spoil. The latter did not quite do that, however. Instead he took the pad, wrote two words carefully on it and returned it. The pompous father read inscribed thereon: 'And chain!' That ended the affair."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ARM CONTEST ENDS ON NEXT WEEK SATURDAY

The comparison of arms of feminine residents of Alameda County has adduced much rivalry among competitors for the distinction of being winner of the tourney, and some very beautiful specimens of endowment in the matter of fine arms and lovely shoulders have been submitted for public consideration. In the hallway of the photograph gallery at 1115 Broadway, close by Thirteenth street, there may be seen a display of charming "bromides," and these exquisite views are of volunteers in the exposition of arms now progressing in THE TRIBUNE.

More new recruits for the tourney are wanted, and it is asked of those holding photo orders that they will present them at the art studio of Shaw & Shaw right away, for the contest will close in about ten days. A hundred or so of orders are still out, and even if some of them have lapsed in time that does not signify, for arrangements have been made which will cause every order to be accepted at the place indicated, and just as good work will be done in the way of depiction as if the customer came in as a cash patron.

"I have had three portraits taken for the best-arm show," writes a candidate for preformance who lives on Fruitvale avenue in Fruitvale, "and you will notice that in each attitude I strove for position effect, my idea being to produce a character scene like an actress who is delivering her lines on the stage, and before an audience. I posed in three styles—sitting, reclining and standing, and you may pick for use the one you judge to be most impressive. THE FATHERLESS CHILDREN--WHO IS TO BLAME?

Many Children Look Upon Their Father as a Kind of Department Store Started for Their Benefit, in Which They Have a Credit Ticket.

store, started for their benefit and in which they have a credit ticket. Sometimes the department store is benign and showers ball-bearing skates and bicycles and pays bills for extravagant gowns and college debts without protest. Sometimes it is tyrannical and things have to be obtained by much chicanery and deceit, but it is always there. The department store also has a department of justice before which the youthful culprit is brought up for punishment occasionally, but for most part the relationship between child and father is merely that between an individual and a source of supply, or the law-breaker and the law.

AN AMAZING THING.

It is the most amazing thing when you consider that a man who would not think of trusting his wife to buy a horse on her own judgment, or conduct the simplest business deal, and who would laugh to scorn the very idea that she knew enough about public needs to select a political candidate, will let her raise his children alone and unaided, select the schools they shall attend, and guide them in the choice of a husband and a profession. The idea is, of course, that maternity works a miracle and gives a woman an inspired vision of what is best to do for her offspring; but there are no facts to support this amiable theory. A fool woman makes a fool mother, and even when a woman isn't a fool it doesn't absolve a man from his share of the responsibility in raising his children. To bring up even the common or garden variety of child properly is a work that requires the united efforts of two people, and it's absolutely necessary that one of these people should be of the male persuasion. No woman ever yet lived who was equal to the task alone. Yet the American man ducks his share of the real labor, and the poor little unfortunate American child is deprived of half of its rights in life—the right to a father.

ELOPERS, FOILED THREE TIMES, FINALLY MANAGE TO MARRY

These Young Lovers Win in Battle of Wits

PITTSBURG, May 23.—After making three attempts to elope to Youngstown, Ohio, without success, during the last year, Miss Gertrude Pinner, aged 20, of the West End, and James Kaltanborn, aged 23, eloped Saturday, and were married at Youngstown that afternoon.

Miss Pinner, who had been so closely watched, got away with her lover, and had the knot tied in Youngstown before they could be stopped. She invited her mother and younger sister to attend a matinee with her, gave them the tickets, and said she would meet them in the theater. Mrs. Pinner and her younger daughter took in the show, but Gertrude came not.

When mother and daughter reached home Mrs. Gertrude Kaltanborn was calling on the phone from Youngstown, asking forgiveness.

WHAT A WOMAN ADMIRES IN MAN

How women do admire men who "do things." I realized that the other night at the reception given to the officers of the Japanese war ships now lying in our harbor.

The women all gazed at General Kuroki as though he were a demigod. Like all great men, his manners were simple and unaffected. He had a genial, kindly smile for every one of the hundred or so women who crowded forward to shake hands with him.

Small, plain of face, unassuming, but for the many medals and the significant band of broad ribbon crossing his breast he might easily have been mistaken for any one of his officers.

That is, he might have been mistaken until you looked straight in his face and met the concentrated gaze of those twinkling black eyes. Then you knew that he was great and that he had done great things.

Woman, I suppose, is a hero worshiper, but then she must worship something, and it is not just as well that she should hit upon something that is really worth while?

A brave man goes straight to the heart of a woman every time. She is by nature a coward, physically at any rate, and man's bravery is something very fine and wonderful to her.

A man does not know the terror of lying awake in the dark, breathless with deadly fear from head to foot because there is a purely imaginary burglar in the room.

But a woman does, and she is afraid of so many other things that she sets a very high value on the bravery of man, who does not fear any of her "bogies."

Kuroki is a man born to command, and that is a quality that also appeals irresistibly to woman. No woman wants to follow a man like a tame sheep, but she does like to look up to him and hold a high opinion of his strength both mentally and physically. Timidity is the last quality in a man to interest her.

Women do not set a very high value on personal beauty. But they do love a man to look strong and manly.

The man who has the ability to earn a fortune is much more likely to hold a woman's love than the man who inherits a fortune but could not build one to save his life.

The man that she can sway to her lightest whim does not interest her; but the man who resists her blandishments, giving only occasional signs that he can be as tender as he is strong, has a never-failing fascination for her.

He must be gentle. A woman hates a rough man, and though she fumes and rebels at it, she is always happy when he treats her as half child, half woman.

You can lay down no cut-and-dried rules for what a woman admires most in man; but the things she admires least are weakness and timidity. She will love a bad, strong man better than a good, puny one.

WOMAN GOES ON HONEYMOON ATTIRED IN HUBBY'S TROUSERS

SANTA BARBARA, May 23.—Because they wanted to spend their honeymoon in a boxcar, "hobnobing" it over the country, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hoyt, who were married a few days ago in Pasadena, were arrested here yesterday and taken to the Police Court. They were captured in the railroad yards. Mrs. Hoyt was attired in a suit of her husband's clothing and was passing as his younger brother. Her sex was discovered at the station and their confession followed.

Hoyt, who was pressman on an Ocean Park newspaper, was reported to have been engaged to marry the daughter of a Pasadena hotel, and get into skirts again.

The average man in this country is, to all intents and purposes, a stranger to his own children. He knows how his Johnny and Tommy and Mamie look physically, but he is unacquainted with the souls of them. He does not know what they think, who are their friends, what their aspirations, what they are studying, or what are their salient characteristics—what strength and what weakness they possess.

CHILDREN KNOW HIM LITTLE. The children know him even less than the father knows them. They look upon him as a kind of department

Miss Babson Is Fond of Children

Miss Corliss Babson, the champion woman high jumper, is very fond of children and at a tea at Vassar the other day she repeated a quaint child saying: "I was walking in Gloucester one morning with a little girl," she began, "and looking over my shoulder I saw the moon—large and round and pale, as it is often seen—in the bright blue sky. 'Oh, look at the moon!' said I. 'The moon in the morning.' The little girl looked at it and frowned. 'Yes, that is the moon,' she said. 'Tain't lighted, though.'"

Hold a hot flatiron a few moments above a white spot on furniture. It will soon disappear.

ROAD TO HAPPY TOWN

"Where is the way to Happy Town?
I have lost it many a mile."
And the winds blew up and the leaves blew down,
As I sat by a lonesome stile.
Along the road of Discontent,
Where many weary pilgrims bent
Their steps and wandered up and down
Seeking the way to Happy Town.

"Tis by a long and rugged road,"
I heard a little maid say,
"And each must share a brother's load
Who travels by that way.
It stands on a shining mountain height,
And all day long gleams in the light;
'Tis plainly seen, this city fair,
When the heart is clean and the eye is clear."

"Give me your hand and come with me;
Little maid, we'll fare together.
If the wind be high and the storm ride free,
Or fair and rosy weather;
Lean on me, dear, by the rough, marsh way,
And lend me your hand as a tender stay,
Through the gay sun smile or the grim storm
frown
We'll make the way to Happy Town."

IS EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY

First National Bank Statement Shows Tremendous Increase in Wealth

The great amount of business shown upon the possibility of the banks of Oakland was not confined to the savings institutions alone, but was noticeable equally as vividly among the National banks of the county. From the figures given out by these guardians of the people's money it is plain to see that the earthquake and fire which left San Francisco in a heap of smoking ruins was not only an affliction to the city, but also a State financial calamity.

Since the destruction of the city across the bay it has been a long and painful process to rebuild the city. The State that Oakland had forged ahead of all other cities in regard to population, and it was not only in the position of a great metropolis, but also a great port of the western metropolis population has not only come to reside in Oakland, but also to the San Francisco Bay area. The city has been able to attract business and to increase its population.

The First National Bank of Oakland shows in its report for the year ending April 30, 1906, that the deposits for the year ending April 30, 1906, were $1,000,000, and the deposits for the year ending April 30, 1907, were $1,500,000, an increase of 50 per cent.

GRAND JURY ADVISES CHANGE

Recommendations More Space for the Various County Offices

Recommendations of more space and better equipment for the county offices was made by the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon and in their report that will soon be due they will likely ask that about $5,000 be expended in enlarging the Hall of Records.

The vault in the County Clerk's office is said to be a fairly good one, but it is not large enough to hold the records of the county. The Grand Jury has recommended that a new vault be constructed in the Hall of Records. The vault is to be built in the new county jail building and the records of the county will be moved there.

The County Auditor's office is also small and inadequate. The Grand Jury has recommended that a new office be constructed for the County Auditor. The new office is to be built in the new county jail building and the records of the county will be moved there.

The Board of Supervisors have been considering the proposed improvements for some time, but the expense has never been authorized. With the recommendation of the Grand Jury it is very likely that much needed improvements will be soon forthcoming.

Farrington was asleep when a burglar entered the house and was running about the room the police made arrested Farrington who gave chase. GEORGE W. JOHNSON.

In the subject of the above illustration we have one of the most wide-awake and progressive of Oakland's business men. He made his first business venture in this city in a small way, as he was at that time handicapped by the lack of capital. But as his motto is "work" he did not consider the lack of capital a serious handicap, so on his arriving in Oakland he used the money he had to buy a wood saw and entered the wholesale wood business. He made it a success from the start, and from time to time added new lines building material etc., until the business spread out over the half block on Broadway between First and Water streets.

It was about this time that he engaged in the real estate business, and since then has devoted nearly all his time to it. At the present time there is no one in Oakland who is considered a better authority in real estate matters than is Mr. George W. Johnson.

He is president of the Geo. W. Johnson Real Estate Co. which has its elegant offices at 211 San Pablo Avenue. He is also president and general manager of the Sonoma Lumber Co. and holds interests in the P. Alden Brick Co.

He has always held a heart's best interests of the city and it was through his efforts that suitable quarters and homes were provided for many of the fire refugees a year ago.

Mr. Johnson is an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and is considered an energetic and astute business man. Beginning with the sudden development of Oakland industries immediately after the San Francisco fire he has carefully invested his money, until at the present he is considered one of our leading promoters.

SCALY ERUPTIONS COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with my hands and feet, and the sores became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to bleed. I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days but soon places would appear again and the itching would accompany me. After I had suffered for ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native country advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, etc. I was continually giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes of Cuticura. Finally, I was advised to try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my skin was restored to its normal condition. I was suffering from an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. B. H. H. Mattingly, Vermilion, S. Dak. Aug. 18, 1905."

Willie Stuck on Frock Coats

The boss says 'A good cook a good wife and a good job will make a happy home anywhere.' Lots of men will put up five dollars for a one dollar meal in a restaurant and then expect their wives to buy five dollars worth of groceries for a dollar. It all depends upon the point of view.

The man who wears a frock coat all the time can't see any beauty in a sack coat or a cutaway. The cutaway man wouldn't wear a frock coat to a dog-fight. The best of it is we have both kinds and can please one man as well as another. The tailors who sew our coats together sew in the collars and the lapels, must all have happy homes and good jobs. They certainly make a fine job of our frock coats and Prince Alberts. In workmanship and trimmings and style they are the real thing and no mistake. Come in and put on a few and size yourself up in the big mirror.

I will think you're going to a wedding.

COMMUTERS LOSE CLOSE GAME TO LONG'S BUNCH

Randolph Tosses in Two Balks That Mitigate Against the Chances of the Oakland.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Randolph's carelessness in making balks yesterday in San Francisco caused the Commuters to lose a 3 to 2 game to the Seals at Jack Gleason's ball yard.

During the afternoon's frolic Randolph tossed in two balks. He said he got the habit from riding back of bally horses to and from the ball yard.

San Francisco was off to a flying start and Mohler scored in the opening inning. He drew a base on balls and was sacrificed to second base by Hildebrand. In the second inning that scored the Seals' captain.

There was nothing doing for the Seals again until the sixth when bad baseball on the part of the Commuters gave to the Seals.

Mohler, the first man up for the Seals in the sixth inning, flew to right field. Hildebrand walked and stroled to second on the first balk by Randolph. Mohler bunted and Randolph.

Randolph and Hackett went after the ball. Hackett reached it first, but Randolph was in the way of a possible throw and the runner was safe. He then threw wild to third in an attempt to catch Hildebrand, and the latter scored. A fortunate double play got the Oaks out of a bad situation at this stage of the game.

Oakland's only busy inning was the third period when they did some nice work on the bases and at the bat and scored a brace of runs.

Randolph cut with another costly balk in the eighth inning when he advanced Mohler and Hildebrand each a base. The inning opened when Street bunted. Quick struck out, and Mohler bunted. Hildebrand, at second, Mohler stole second, Mohler then came up and Randolph squeezed.

In his second balk on him, Mohler singled, scoring Mohler with the winning run.

From a fielding standpoint the game was a corking good one, the only error of the day being charged up to Hackett.

Quick allowed the Commuters only two hits, while Randolph let the Seals do with 10.

Perrine had considerable trouble umpiring yesterday. He and Pitcher Randolph had several heated arguments.

Tribune Springs Two Big Stories

In the last two days THE TRIBUNE printed two of the most sensational pugilistic stories cut loose in America in the last decade. Tuesday's TRIBUNE contained the exclusive story of the proposed Hart-Schreck fake, scheduled for Tonopah May 30.

Wednesday's TRIBUNE printed the complete and exclusive confession of JACK O'BRIEN, and the article appeared in THE TRIBUNE'S RACING EDITION hours before any other paper had this choice bit of news.

THE TRIBUNE sports are written by experts of long and varied experience and writers whose sole purpose is to serve the public's end.

The HART-SCHRECK story and THE O'BRIEN confession were both exclusive TRIBUNE stories.

LOS ANGELES WINS FROM BEAVERS

PORTLAND, May 22.—Los Angeles opened its season in Portland with a victory that was due almost entirely to bad errors on the part of Portland. Of their five runs only one was earned by the Angels, while the Beavers had two earned runs out of three. An error by Shinn brought in one run, one by Lovett was responsible for another, and on Bassey's miff came in the fourth, when he was caught by Knickerbocker.

Although Portland's defense was conspicuous for its poor playing they had no monopoly on misplays. Derrick came in for severe roasting for calling Smith safe at first when Carson had plainly touched him. Hosp fell between third and home, scattering a bone in his shoulder, which will keep him out of the game for several days. The score:

Century Wheelmen Have New Quarters

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The new Century Wheelmen will open their new clubhouse at No. 2 Liberty street, near Valencia, on next Monday evening.

The new rooms of the Wheelmen's club will be modern in every particular. The annual ten-mile race will be held in Golden Gate Park some time next month.

No Squeeze Play for McGraw's Men

NEW YORK, May 22.—There are two picturesque features of present-day baseball that American league teams have adopted, but which Manager McGraw will have nothing to do with. They are the spitball and the squeeze play. McGraw has absolutely prohibited the use of either by his players.

The spitball McGraw considers as the most dangerous delivery a pitcher can adopt, and he has issued the strictest orders against its use. He says no pitcher can use it more than one season without ruining his arm. McGraw possibly bases his conclusion on Cheever's sad experience. However, the Giants' manager will listen to no arguments that Walsh, of the White Sox, has used the vapor pellet for several seasons, and is still very effective with it, or that Strickert is still good and also has used the damp sling for years.

"I will not have any of my pitchers use it," he says with rigid determination and decisiveness.

"All of my pitchers are good enough for me as they are."

Both McGraw and Taylor can use the spitball, and with great effectiveness, too, according to their own opinions. But they must have gained it by pitching at the barn door on the old farm during the winter months, for they never dared to exploit their respective abilities with the spitter at the Polo grounds.

As for the "squeeze" McGraw's characteristic remark about it is: "A sucker play."

But Keeler and Chase work it together in their own inimitable style. It has surely won games. Of course, if the play is not carried through exactly as intended, if either player hustles—either by the pitcher or the catcher on third—or the pitcher "gets on," then it is all off, and the play then is a sure enough "sucker" one, but, nevertheless, it is a sure enough game, and a winner when properly handled.

Law Suit Results From Fight Fake

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—One law suit has resulted from the Burns-O'Brien fake, and it is said that others will be filed shortly.

Walter Clark sued the Ellis-Cohen Cigar Company yesterday for the return of money he put up as a wager. The affidavit of Clark alleges that the boxing show was billed as a genuine $30,000 affair, and that before the exhibition the referee declared all bets off.

For these reasons Clark demands that $50 be returned to him, along with the costs of the trial be paid by Cohen.

Alameda Will Play Wilmerding Team

BURKELEY, May 22.—Closing of the academic baseball season in this part of the State will take place Saturday afternoon on the university campus. Alameda High School and Wilmerding School of Industrial Arts will meet and decide the championship, each having a semi-final game to its credit. The game will be called promptly at 2 o'clock.

For several months Oakland High School and Berkeley High School led in the race, but Alameda and Wilmerding proved stronger and will play the final game Saturday.

Jockey Jackson's Wife Wants Divorce

Jockey L. Jackson has been sued for a divorce by his wife, Annie E. Jackson, who married him in February of 1923. She charges that he deserted her in April, 1924. They have one child, a son aged 3. The wife alleges that Jackson makes $300 a month riding race horses, and she asks that he be compelled to support her and her son.

White Sox Have Great Backstops

CHICAGO, May 22.—The manner in which the world champion White Sox have been winning games has caused the baseball world to sit up and take notice and incidentally ask: "How do they do it?"

Almost every authority on baseball in the country will concede that Jones has one of the weakest hitting teams in the big league, and the old baseball saying, "It takes hits to win games," has apparently been relegated to the background.

It is a great fielding team, to be sure, but that will not get runs across the plate. Connie Mack, however, believes that he has found the reason.

This is what Connie has to say: "I believe that the secret lies in the work of Billy Sullivan, the catcher. He is undoubtedly the greatest catcher of the present time, and it is the inside workings of the team, practically captained and pulled off by him, that prevents those teams that get ten and twelve hits getting more than two runs. The Sox have won the majority of their games by close scores, but if they continue to keep up the gall they are going it will be an extremely hard matter for any of the teams in this league to get to the front. And I think that Sullivan has more to do with it than any one player on the team."

This is very good logic. A catcher can do much during a game to keep the team playing great ball all the time or to allow the team to go to sleep simply by a little oversight. The inside of the game is seldom journey understood by the spectators, but it is going on all the time, and the slips that come are mostly laid at the feet of the catcher, for he is the man that is in control of the team on this inside playing.

Noted Fighter Dies in Joint

DENVER, May 22.—From the dreamy slumber of opium, Jack Lavelle, a pugilist of considerable note, passed into eternal sleep on a bunk in the "joint" of Um Stuk, in the rear of 2643 Market street. At his side lay the pipe under whose soporific influence he had been taken in a journey through dreamland only a few minutes before. Revelling in dreams of former victories, he was seized with a heart attack, while the still brighter dreams of future conquests ended with his life. Apparently Lavelle was happy in his sleep, for when discovered his face was wreathed in smiles.

Lavelle was well known in Denver. He had no mistaking, for the speedy runner of Royal Flush lived up to his past record and snatched home with flying colors. Turnaway raced out in front when the barrier was sprung, and although Firestone was inclined to lag a bit in the early running, when Sandy went to the bat, he responded gamely, breezed by the leaders in the stretch, and left them as if they were dazed. Raleigh ran his usual honest race and easily disposed of Turnaway for the place. The others were never factors in the race.

Next in demand came the Elsinore Handicap at $1000, and a field of seven clever performers raced after the much coveted prize. Honors in this event fell to Sir Brillar, which in a furious drive held on long enough to snatch the purse from Bedford, who worked like a demon and fairly lifted him under the wire. Bedford, however, was best but was given a weak ride. Massa out-gamed Eduardo for the show. This proved one of the prettiest races seen in many a day and the mile and twenty yards was stepped in 1:42, which equals the California record.

Barney Schrieber's black filly, Louise Fitzgibbon, quoted at $3 to 1, with "Reggie" Davis in the pilot box, just beat the fast coming Sacht in the second race. Royal Maxim made a determined effort in the stretch, but could do no better than finish third.

J. B. Dunn's recent acquisition, Van Ness, at 15 to 1, came to life rather suddenly and led a heart-disease finish just old nose out. Pal for first honors in the third. It was Fischer's strong finish which won for the Loyalist gelding, as Pal was much the better horse, and barring interference, would have scored. Phalanx hung on gamely and fell fair to third money.

The mile dash proved only an exercise gallop for Atkins. He was away flying and nothing else in the race could get near him. Andrew Mack dropped into second place. In a hard drive Funnyside secured the show from Talamond.

The closing event brought about the defeat of the fifth straight favorite, when Ocean Shore lasted long enough to stall off the fast coming Blagg. Had the latter gotten away on equal terms with the winner, the result would have been different. The Mist closed stoutly and fell into third place.

Sir Edward was the medium of a wild plunge in the Sausalito poolroom yesterday to take the handicap, which was the first race on the card at Toronto. The best son of Eddie Jones could do was to get the short end of the purse.

In the current issue of the Racing Calendar appears a correction of the error in the registration of the two-year-old brown filly by Ornament-Nata, which was sold to Harry Reed of Lexington, Ky., by Edward Corrigan and which appears in the ninth volume of the Stud Book as a brown colt. The name Elphine has been given to this filly.

Tichimingo, owned by J. C. Ferris, Jr., is dead. He broke his neck while being scolded through the field at Louisville recently.

Benvenuto, Veteran, Little Joker, Ray and Hi-Caul-Cap will meet in a two-mile race today.

Jockey Garner is a game kid. After suffering the breaking of his right hand in falling from Marbles at Belmont Park the other day, he bravely sat still while the surgeon twisted the dislocated member back into place.

Herman Goldberg has been offered $3,600 for his black colt named Billy Hanna. He wants $4,000. "Boote" Durall would like to buy the two-year-old at $3,000. He won't go any further.

Information wanted—Who owns Kercheval?

Ellie P. Corey, who gave up $5,000,000 to bring about a marriage with Mahabell Gilman, the former chorus girl, once stood for a tap on the horse game. It was Corey's money which financed the Mastin Stable of three years ago.

Col. Dan Burns, a recent arrival from Mexico, was a visitor at Williams Park yesterday.

Optician met with all kinds of trouble. De Arman's horse was running over horses at the finish.

Cigarlighter's smoke went out when the real racing began.

At a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club the following officials for the summer meeting of the Buffalo Racing Association were approved: Judge and Handicapper, J. A. Murphy; starter, A. B. Dade; clerk of scales, Horace Lerch; time, E. W. Mills; paddock and patrol judge, E. W. Brown; starting judge, E. H. McBride; Henry J. Morris, steward to represent the Jockey Club.

Jockey Kirschbaum put up a good ride on Ocean Shores which won the race.

Nealon and Tony Faust will hook up in the Parkway Handicap at Gravesend tomorrow.

Lacross Teams to Compete Here

Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the lacrosse teams of San Mateo and Oakland will play a game at the St. Mary's College campus grounds.

All the best players in the league will participate. It ought to be one of the best exhibitions of lacrosse ever seen on the coast, as a great many experienced players from Canada will be in the line-up. A great many have played with the best Canadian teams in the country. A. S. Theberg, president of the association, is very enthusiastic about the outlook at lacrosse this year. He is confident that this season will prove the best ever experienced on the coast.

George Dixon Is Down and Out Bad

NEW YORK, May 22.—George Dixon, the greatest little fighter of his weight that this country has ever produced, is taking life easily in New York City, thanks to a few big-hearted sports who attended the McGovern benefit.

On the night of the Terry testimonial Dixon slipped in Harry Harris' dressing-room and asked the New York boxer for 10 cents to pay his car fare home. Dixon said that he was flat broke and without a hint to where his breakfast was to come from.

Harris handed him a $5 note, and after dressing went into the crowd. Moving among the men he knew, Harris circulated the story that Dixon was down and out, and without a penny.

The sports began to dig. Part of the evening had been taken up by the auction sale of cartoons by New York artists dealing with sporting subjects. There was one cartoon left, a picture of McGovern and Roosevelt with hands clasped over the caption: "The Two Greatest Fighters in the World." It was agreed to put this cartoon up for Dixon's benefit, and a Wall Street broker secured it at $100.

TURF INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT RACING MATTERS GOSSIP

By LEE DEMIER.

Lovers of good sport found much to attract them to Williams Park yesterday. The card offered bristled with class from start to finish, and an enormous crowd was on hand to witness the fun, which began with the opening number. This was a purse for two-year-olds, in which the crack, Firestone, made his appearance after a long rest, and tried conclusions with the speedy placed runner, Turnaway. This event proved an intensely interesting one to race followers, as for the first time, they witnessed Tom Williams' sterling colt perform over a fast track, and it was also the first time he had been asked to five furlongs. It was generally conceded however that his class would carry him to victory and in this, the public was not mistaken, for the speedy runner of Royal Flush lived up to his past record and snatched home with flying colors. Turnaway raced out in front when the barrier was sprung, and although Firestone was inclined to lag a bit in the early running, when Sandy went to the bat, he responded gamely, breezed by the leaders in the stretch, and left them as if they were dazed.
